Q: clojure variable before dereferencing I am writing a clojure macro that I hope can be applied to case-like clauses. Here is an example: `(defmacro defcase ([] `(defcase ~'(quote (in-box)) (~@(map #(defrecord % ~(pr-str (-> % p))) [(case-like ~'(quote (in-box)))] (false nil))) ([cons param conds] `(defcase ~'(quote ~(quote (in-box)) ~param ~conds)) ([maybe-cond] `(defcase ~(if (-> maybe-cond maybe-cond (quote (in-box)) '(in-box)) ~@(map #(defrecord % ~(pr-str (-> % p))) [(case-like ~'(quote (in-box)))])) ([maybe-cond maybe-cons] `(defcase ~(if (-> maybe-cond maybe-cons) maybe-cond (quote (in-box)) '(in-box)) ~@(map #(defrecord % ~(pr-str (-> % p))) [(case-like ~'(quote (in-box)))])) ([maybe-cond maybe-cons maybe-result] `(defcase ~(if (-> maybe-cond maybe-result) maybe-result (quote (in-box)) '(in-box)) ~@(map #(defrecord % ~(pr-str (-> % p))) [(case-like ~'(quote (in-box)))]))))))` defrecord seems to be pulling in the value of param before it is dereferenced, and I'm not
